ABOUT THE ARTIST

BIO & HIGHLIGHTS

amaka. (FKA Amaka Queenette) is a Nigerian-born alt-RnB artist hailing from Toronto's East end. With her genre exploring style and nostalgia laced lyrics, amaka. sets out to create beautiful, unhurried moments with listeners.

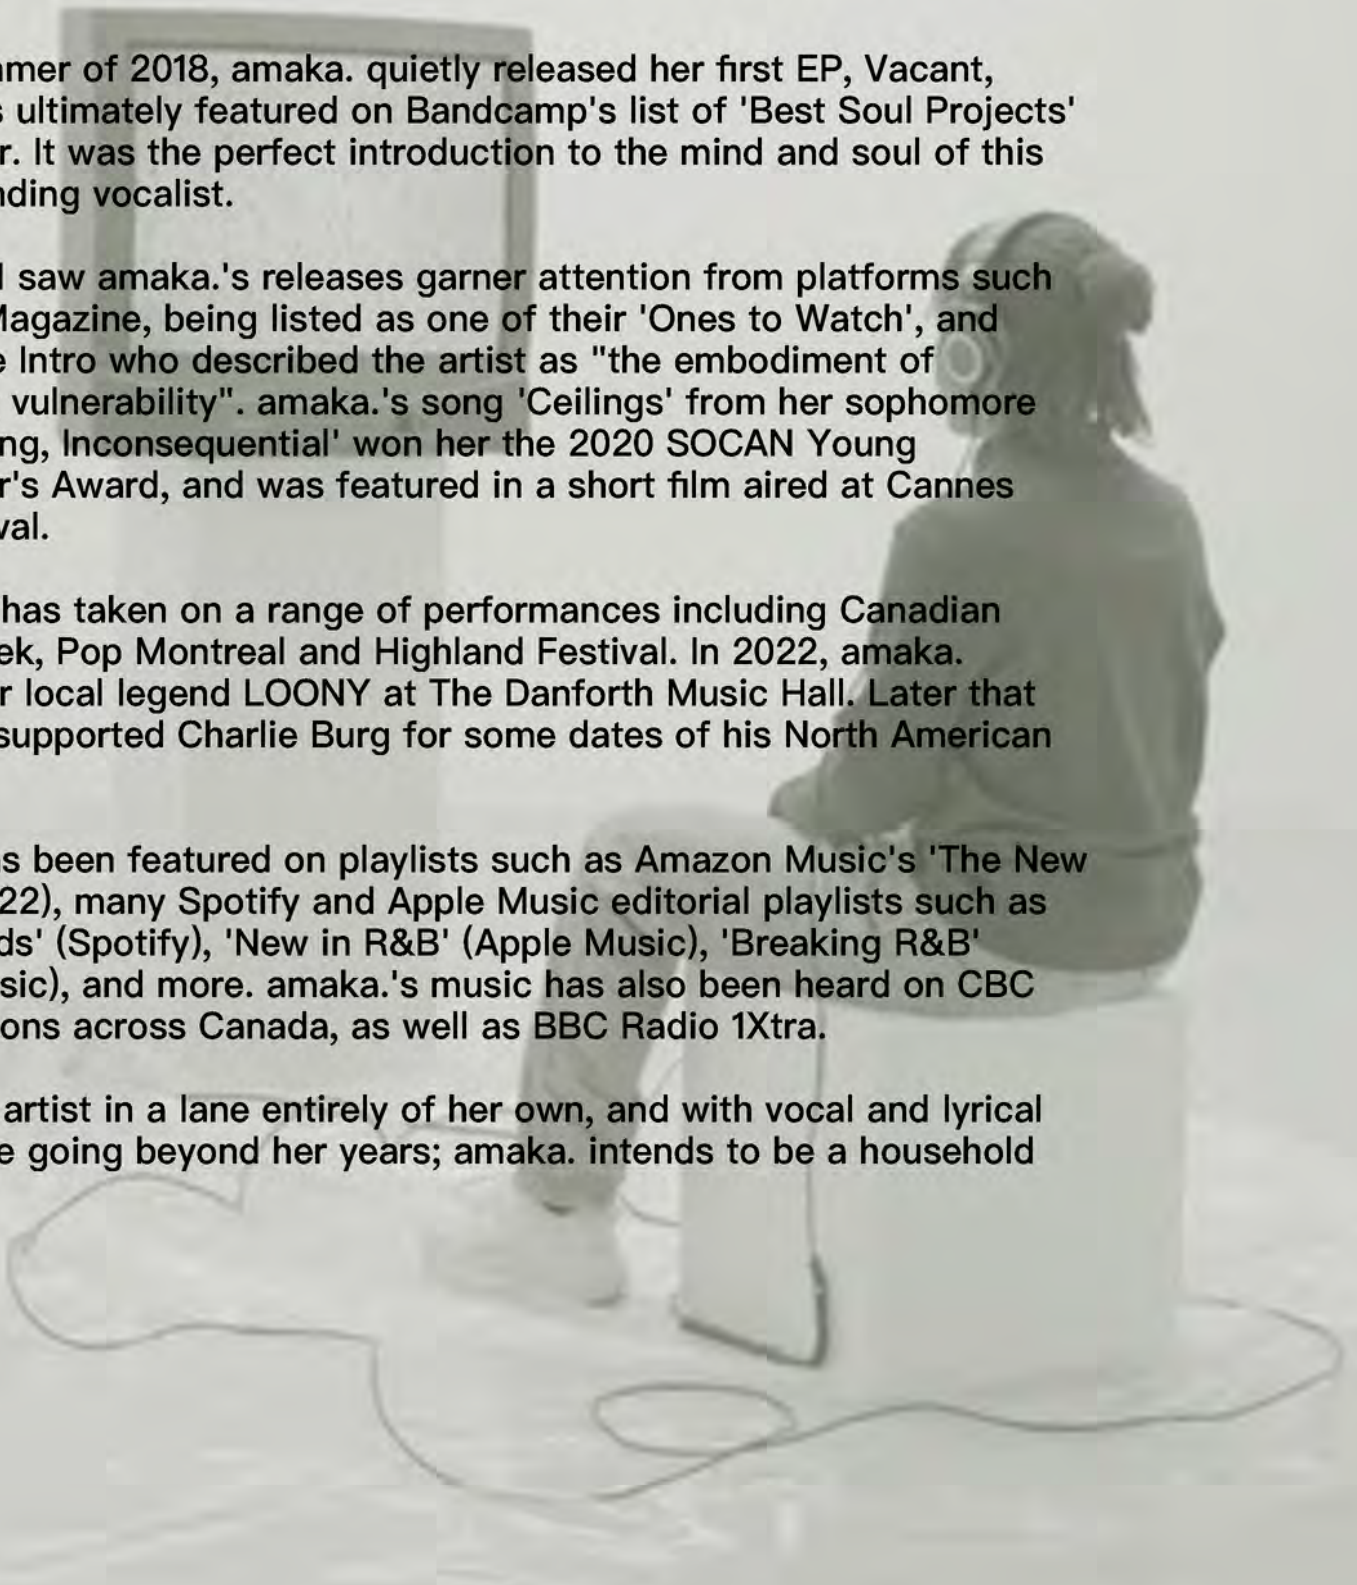

In the summer of 2018, amaka. quietly released her first EP, Vacant, which was ultimately featured on Bandcamp's list of 'Best Soul Projects' of the year. It was the perfect introduction to the mind and soul of this genre-bending vocalist.

2019–2021 saw amaka.'s releases garner attention from platforms such as NOW Magazine, being listed as one of their 'Ones to Watch', and CBC's The Intro who described the artist as "the embodiment of unyielding vulnerability". amaka.'s song 'Ceilings' from her sophomore EP, 'Fleeting, Inconsequential' won her the 2020 SOCAN Young Songwriter's Award, and was featured in a short film aired at Cannes Film Festival.

The artist has taken on a range of performances including Canadian Music Week, Pop Montreal and Highland Festival. In 2022, amaka. opened for local legend LOONY at The Danforth Music Hall. Later that year, she supported Charlie Burg for some dates of his North American tour.

amaka. has been featured on playlists such as Amazon Music's 'The New Black' (2022), many Spotify and Apple Music editorial playlists such as 'Fresh Finds' (Spotify), 'New in R&B' (Apple Music), 'Breaking R&B' (Apple music), and more. amaka.'s music has also been heard on CBC radio stations across Canada, as well as BBC Radio 1Xtra.

This is an artist in a lane entirely of her own, and with vocal and lyrical composure going beyond her years; amaka. intends to be a household name.
